Advanced Division

Players in the “Advanced” division have been playing for some time, they already master many of the shots needed to compete effectively in Jr. USGA sanctioned tournaments, most of these players are part of their high school Golf team.

Because of the above factors, the “Advanced” schedule may seem, on the surface, quite monotonous, but it is far from that. The “Advanced” division has an advantage over many other groups in the area because they are not only playing almost every Saturday in some of the best Golf courses of Central Florida, but they are also being helped by professional coaches from those courses. Such is the “McCord Academy” at Orange Lake Resort. Rick McCord has been a professional golfer for over 42 years; his experience in teaching is top and employs some of the best coaches in Central Florida. Refer to the website of the “McCord Academy” to learn more about him and his academy.

“Advanced” students also benefit from the knowledge that various coaches at the other courses where Tee-Lo Golf plays on Saturdays. They share their time in answering specific questions and give the appropriate exercises to make the necessary adjustments that can bring consistency of play.

To top all the above, Tee-Lo Golf’s own instructor Kerry Sartor is there every Saturday to help all the players on this group with specific needs they may have. Kerry Sartor knows the players as he works with them every week and knows what exercises to use specific to each individual and their unique style of play.
